Beware the Ides of March!

This March quote sounds so mysterious and many associate it with doom.

However, it actually means to celebrate and rejoice. But, mysteries are much more fun as you can see in our New Items list at right. Come check them out!

I would like to introduce our new Adult Programmer, Chrissi Germann. Chrissi has already scheduled many activities and events for adults ranging from 18-99. Please welcome her when you see her.

ADULT NON-FICTION

Murder on Rouse Hill/Allen Terry Wright

Around noon, November 22, 1915, everyone in Stoutland, Missouri, who could walk or ride rushed to view the mortal remains of one of the area's most prosperous farmers and leading citizens. Hidden in a brush pile on nearby Rouse Hill, the victim's body displayed the marks of a determined and vicious killer. Six years later, a dozen lawyers, four doctors, one hundred witnesses, four jury trials, a Missouri Supreme Court decision, ...(for more, visit the our online catalog.).

YA FICTION

I'm the Girl / Courtney Summers

When sixteen-year-old Georgia Avis discovers the dead body of thirteen-year-old Ashley James, she teams up with Ashley's older sister, Nora, to find and bring the killer to justice before he strikes again. But their investigation throws Georgia into a world of unimaginable privilege and wealth, without conscience or consequence, and as Ashley's killer closes in, Georgia will discover when money, power and beauty rule, it might not be a matter of who is guilty-but who is guiltiest.

JUVENILE FICTION

A Perfect Mistake / Melanie Conklin

Max wishes he could go back in time to before he was diagnosed with ADHD, before he grew to be the tallest kid in his class, and before he and his best friends went into the woods in the middle of the night. Max doesn't remember what happened after he left his friends Will and Joey and the older kids who took them there. He's not sure if he wants to remember. Knowing isn't going to make Joey talk to him again, or bring Will out of his coma...(for more, visit the our online catalog.)
