November 2022

Thanks!

November is the time we think back and reflect on what we are thankful for. We are very thankful for our Veterans who have served our country with everything they had. If it weren't for them, our country would look a lot different right now. We all have a relative or know someone who has gone to battle for us. Some of our veterans have seen some horrendous things and still today, cannot get those images out of their minds. These heroes probably won't tell you about the things they've seen nor will they tell about the nightmares they still endure. It is to these men and women that we owe our utmost gratitude for fighting for our freedoms and civil liberties we have today. We are starting a program for the tweens to write letters to the currently deployed. If you would like to add a letter to go out to them, see the information about it on the back page of this publication.

Our tweens will mail your letters to the military along with their letters.

Thanks to all of you for supporting our library system and have a happy Thanksgiving.

DIY resin crafting projects : a beginner's guide to making clear resin jewelry, paperweights, coasters, and other keepsakes by Teodora Petkova

Keep memories made by nature! Whether it's a four-leaf clover, a bird's feather, or even beautiful blooms from your prom corsage or wedding bouquet, this complete guide includes 10 fun projects that are perfect for anyone to make gorgeous resin crafts and keepsakes from memorable moments, places, events, walks, and hikes. From flower paperweights and wood coasters to insect keychains and more, learn everything you need to know to successfully work with and pour resin, and how to preserve flowers, bugs, feathers, shells, and other natural treasures. With step-by-step instructions, coordinating photography, helpful tips throughout, and so much more, DIY Resin Crafting Projects is a unique and engaging source of inspiration to introduce you to the exciting world of epoxy resin art!

Picture Books: Rock by rock : the fantastical garden of Nek

Chand / Jennifer Bradbury ; illustrated by Sam Boughton. This luminous picture book tells the fascinating true story of artist Nek Chand and how his secret art project--hidden away in a jungle--became one of India's most treasured wonders, second only to the Taj Mahal. In the bustle of the busy streets of Chandigarh, India, Nek Chand saw something no one else did. Where others saw rocks and stones, Nek saw the boyhood village he missed so dearly. Where others saw broken plates and glass, Nek saw laughing men. And where others saw trash, Nek saw beauty. Nek Chand's incredible rock garden, built from stone and scraps and concrete, began as a way for him to express his long-felt grief at having to leave his boyhood village due to the violence caused by the partition of India. What began as a secret and personal (not to mention initially illegal) project became so much more, not only to Nek but to all of India.

Juvenile Fiction:

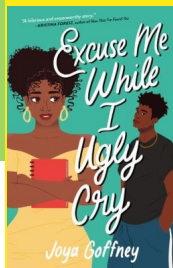

Brave in the Woods by Tracy Holczer

After her brother goes missing in Afghanistan, twelve-year-old Juni sets out to break a family curse in hopes it will bring her brother safely home.

YA Fiction:

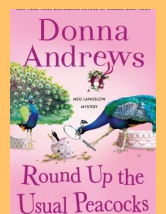

Excuse Me While I Ugly Cry by Joya Goffney

Quinn's journal is where she writes down everything -- in list format -- that she doesn't want to admit out loud, or even face; once they're written, she can release them and feel a little bit more at peace. When the journal goes missing and her list of biggest fears is posted online with a challenge to face each of them or else have the entire journal go public, it's time for Quinn to move out of the realm of her mind and into real life. She's not going quietly, however, and finds herself working to track down the blackmailer before time runs out.

Adult Fiction: Round Up the Usual Peacocks by Donna Andrews

Kevin, Meg's cyber-savvy nephew who lives in the basement, comes to her with a problem. He's become involved as the techie for a true-crime podcast, one that focuses on Virginia cold cases and unsolved crimes. And he thinks their podcast has hit a nerve with someone . . . one of the podcast team has had a brush with death that Kevin thinks was an attempted murder, not an accident. Kevin rather sheepishly asks for Meg's help in checking out the people involved in a couple of the cases.
